Juneau Child Care Challenges

There are several key challenges that limit the amount and quality of child care in Juneau

Total Juneau Kids Under Kindergarten Age = 2,464

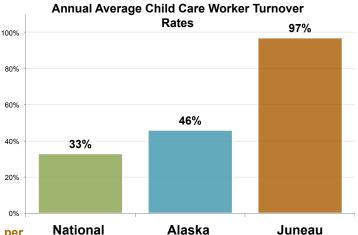

The 2012 turnover rate for child care workers in Juneau was 97% for Juneau childcare programs community wide. This compares to 46% statewide and 33% nationally. High turnover rates are blamed on the low compensation received by Juneau child care workers, combined with the high costs of living.

Not enough child care to meet the needs of the community

There are more than 2,400 kids in Juneau under kindergarten age, but only enough child care slots in approved or licensed child care facilities to take fewer than one in five of these children.

Since two-thirds of Juneau children under the age of six live in households with no stay at home parent, that means that nearly half (1,065) of our birth to 5 year olds are in unknown child care situations. Local surveys have confirmed the high usage of nonregulated child care in Juneau.

High Turnover Rates

Low Wages and High Costs

Juneau parents pay an average of $9,184 per child per year for child care. $66,510

afford fair market rent for 2-bedroom apt

Average Juneau Kindergarten Teacher

Juneau's average wage is twice the average child care wage in Juneau. Despite the fact that Juneau parents pay an average of more than $9,000 per child per year for child care services, kindergarten teachers were paid 2.8 times more than childcare workers. Unlike elementary school teachers, child care workers have no summer or winter vacations, and likely not getting benefits, such as health insurance or retirement.

While the average annual wage for a child care worker in Juneau was $23,650 in 2012, the wage needed to be able to afford a two bedroom apartment in Juneau was $53,040.

ow Child Care Worker Credentials

For every 6 Juneau child care workers in the field, there is only one with basic child development credentials. "Basic child development credential" refers to obtainment of a Child Development Associate or at least 12 credits in Early Childhood Education.
